

Glass Substrate Inspection Device

Usage A device to carry out sampling inspection for glass substrates.

Explanation A device that carries out sampling inspection for glass substrates. A camera inspects the glass from both below and above while moving it.

The decisive factor for adoption was that the glass can be fed at a constant speed and the device itself can be manufactured at low cost.