

Lifter to inspect a semi-finished product

Usage A device to lift up a semi-finished product to inspect it.

Explanation

Lifts a semi-finished product which can't be tilted (lifting up one of its sides, etc.) due to its current state in order to check its wirings from beneath.

Turning off the Elecyylinder's forward signal and reversing signal causes the Elecyylinder to stop at its current position.

This device uses this feature to lift the product to a suitable height for inspection.

By using this device, workers can now inspect products more easily with a better posture.
