

Battery container transfer device

Usage A device that transfers container with battery fluid in it.

Explanation A device that moves the battery container under the dispenser and returns it to its original position after filling. Since the Elecylinder can be moved at the fixed acceleration and deceleration, it can now transport the liquid without spilling them.